FRIDAY MORNING MARCH 18, 1864

Stupid Blindness.

If men who oppose the Government and pretend to imagine, because their wish is father to the thought, that the rebellion cannot be crushed by the strong arm of war, would calmly observe the present position of affairs, they would be compelled to confess their mistake They would see that the South which predicted starvation and bankruptcy for the North, is now terribly pinched for the necessaries of life Its sacred soil is shaking under the martial tread of the invader More than half of its original area is now in possession of the Federal armies Its territory has been cut in halves, between which there is no communication The main source of its gunpowder has been wrested from its possession, and its principal thoroughfares are in the hands of the Government

These facts prove that although the struggle may be long and fierce, the South can be conquered, and must in the end yield to a superior power, for there is now in the north no idea or suggestion of peace on the part of the loyal masses They are determined to win a victory, the effect of which shall last forever, and are marching on to its accomplishment with resistless energy

The South, though it wanted war and prepared for it, now whines about Federal cruelty and injustice in meeting treason with the strong and invincible arm of lawful authority There is no doubt that it has had enough of fighting, and that if it were not for the influence of slavery, upon which a large part of its people planted themselves as the corner stone of their national abortion, the rebellion would ere now be stopped though its close involved and required a humiliating submission to the Union But the slave power dies hard, and stubbornly holds out in its treasonable opposition, in the hope that some turn of events may assist it And northern men, infatuated and prejudiced by old political associations, blind themselves to the sure prospect of the speedy triumph of patriotism, being apparently determined in spite of the clearest evidence to the contrary, to insist that the Government cannot protect itself or enforce the laws Is this the part of wisdom? Does it not rather show that such men have laid aside their senses, and in their mad devotion to the twin crimes of slavery and democracy, have decided that no government is worth saving, which is not founded upon this double headed monstrosity?

ARCHBISHOP PURCELL'S LETTER TO HIS DIOCESE --We make the following extracts from the letter of Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati to the clergy and laity of his Diocese, on the subject of the season of Lent

John Baptist by the grace of God and the authority of the Holy See Archbishop of Cincinnati, to the Clergy and Laity of our Diocese health peace and benediction from God the Father through Jesus Christ our Lord, and the communication of the Holy Spirit, Amen.

Beloved Brethren and Children in God * * *

If tens of thousands of our Catholic brethren have fallen in the front ranks of the National armies, attesting even at this high price their devotion to the Government and their sense of the value of the Union surely we can unite with the Vicar of Christ, undeterred by what friend or foe may say of his paternal interposition or counsel, in beseeching the Almighty God to inspire the contending hosts and rulers, North and South, with the desire of peace * * * It is worthy the noble heart of Pius Ninth to wish and pray that this great country, but yesterday united and therefore prosperous and powerful, may put back the sword into the scabbard and enjoy in honorable and uninterrupted peace the blessings which God has poured upon it more abundantly than on any other nation under Heaven The Holy Father, in an audience of three quarters of an hour, granted on the first day of December, to a young American priest of this Diocese who had left a seminary in France with some of his beloved fellow students, to join the Papal Zouaves, and who told the Pope that as he had risked his life to maintain the territorial integrity of the States of the Church, so would he willingly die to defend the integrity of the Union, and assured him of his sincere love of the people of the North At the same time the Sovereign Pontiff confided to his care an autograph letter for us, doubtless, as in the instances of the letters to the Archbishop of New Orleans and the late lamented Archbishop of New York, to urge us to use our best efforts in the interest of peace. We have not received this honored letter. But you are our witnesses, that while we go with our whole heart and soul for the maintenance of the Union and the abolition of slavery—against neither of which does the Supreme Pontiff of Christendom utter a single word—we have omitted no opportunity in our visits to our churches, in the administration of confirmation, in our public prayers, morning and afternoon, in our Cathedral, to exhort our beloved children to unite with us in supplications for peace

† JOHN B. PURCELL, Archbishop Cincinnati
SEPTUAGESIMA SUNDAY, 1864.

COST OF BOOTS AND SHOES IN RICHMOND — The Richmond Enquirer, of the 28th of January, says

For the "benefit of posterity," as well as for the information of the people of the present day, we put upon record the following schedule of prices for making and repairing boots and shoes charged at an establishment in this city which is generally overrun with orders For making boots, $225; for soling boots, $140, for ordinary cavalry boots, $250 for gaiters, $110 for high lace shoes, $100, for Oxford ties, $90, for fixing half soling boots, $62, for half soling and heeling boots, $20 ditto shoes $18 for new gores to gaiters, $10, for half soling boots or shoes, $12 for heeling ditto, $8 If calf skins are furnished the charge will be for making boots $120, shoes, $60 Where it will not be possible to fill an order in the course of four weeks from the time it is taken, no price will be set, but the price will be fixed at the time of delivery

ITEMS FROM THE MINES —We condense the following paragraphs, from the Walla Walla Statesman of the 12th inst

Mr Richard Henry of the Bitter Root Ferry has an Arabian camel which he has packed with 400 pounds for the Kootenai mines The camel was obtained from parties recently from Cariboo A number of these animals were shipped to that country about a year ago to be used as pack animals but owing to the stony formation of the country they became foot sore, and their owners failed to decide the investment a profitable one It is thought they will be profitable on the Kootenai route as the country to be travelled over is most of the way but little un like that of their deserts

A ferry is being constructed on the Pend d Oreille river near the big lake It will be completed in time to accommodate the travel to the Kootenai mines

The weather has been very stormy in the mountains during the past two weeks High winds with considerable rain prevailed in the mines while on the mountains—especially the Blue Range—there has been very heavy snow storms

The two cavalry companies now stationed at Fort Walla Walla, will march for the Plains—in the direction of Boise and along the old emigrant road—about the middle of April

Parties at Oro Fino are discussing the propriety of repealing the miner's law there which prohibits the emigration of Chinamen to that camp It is urged by claimholders there that they could not get hands to work their claims last summer on account of the excitements elsewhere and that the only way to remedy the inconvenience is to encourage Chinese emigration The only advocates of the change are the heavy claimholders. It is a well established fact that the Chinese labor system in California worked badly enough and without any lasting benefit to the State We ought to profit some by the light of that States' experience

At the present rate of emigration to the Idaho mines, it will be but a short time until the supply of laborers will be in excess of the demand Until that time no other mining camp can receive much attention from the public It would be the height of folly to tell people to go to any other camp to mine than Boise The nearest way to get to the Oro Fino mines, the Kootenai mines or any other mines, just now, is to go by way of Boise

The first stage for Boise left this city on Thursday morning From and after next week tri weekly trips will be made

The murderers hung at Lewiston last week refused to have their pictures taken Hearing that it was the intention to take their likenesses after they were hung, they concocted a plan to break the camera, which they knew was the only one in Lewiston, and thus prevent the pictures being taken Accordingly on the day before execution, one of the number—Lower—consented to have his picture taken He was conducted by the Sheriff to the operating-room for that purpose, and an opportunity presenting, he seized hold of the instrument and threw it down upon a chair, shattering the box and breaking the "ground glass" Upon being asked by the sheriff why he did this he replied that he thought the thing was loaded and was afraid it might go off and hurt him" The instrument was repaired, but by constant importuning they exacted a promise from the sheriff that their pictures should not be taken after they were dead, and no effort was made to get them

THE REBELS. — The rebels are in a fix. Their case seems to stand thus

1 If they increase their army they cannot feed it
2 Unless they increase their army they are whipped
3 Unless the press speaks out their liberties are gone.
4 If the press speaks out their Government will be gone
5 Unless they draft the whole population they must surrender
6 If they draft the whole population they must starve
7 Unless they recover East Tennessee they can get no saltpeter
8 If they undertake to recover East Tennessee they will get more saltpeter than they want
9 Unless they free the negroes they've nothing left to fight with 10 If they free the negroes they've nothing left to fight for 11 Ever since the rebellion began negroes have been falling
12 Nevertheless, their greatest fear now is lest the negroes should rise
13 Unless Jeff Davis repudiates his present debts, he can't borrow from anybody
14 If he repudiates, nobody will lend to him
15 If he impresses food he turns the land into a desert.
16 Unless he impresses food he turns his men into deserters
17 They can t succeed in the war until they have got the means of building railroads
18 They can't get the means of building railroads
19 If they fight they lose the day
20 Unless they fight they lose every day

That is what was meant two years ago, when we talked about getting them into the folds of the anaconda Having rioted in the enjoyment of several vices for a long time, we will see how they feel in a vice

HOW SECRETARY STANTON SETTLED A POINT —Washington correspondence of 3d February says

The town is laughing at an amusing story of a recent interview between the Secretary of War and the President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad It is too good to be lost, and I give it as I find it afloat

"The draft has fallen with great severity upon the employees of our company"

"Indeed"

"If something is not done to relieve us, it is hard to foresee the consequences."

"Let them pay the commutation."

"Impossible! the men can't stand such a tax"

"They have a rich company at their back, and that's more than other people have"

"They ought to be exempted, because they are necessary to the working of the road for the Government"

"That can't be"

"Then I will stop the road"

"If you do, I will take it up and carry it on!"

The discussion is said to have been dropped at this point, and the worthy President is still working the road as successfully as ever

T STARR KING'S FUNERAL —A telegram to the Sacramento Union gives a brief detail of the funeral of the late T Starr King, which took place on Sunday

Between six thousand and eight thousand persons were in attendance at the funeral services of Thomas Starr King Under instructions from Washington, minute guns were fired from the forts, and the flags of all the military posts were at half mast The military guard of honor was composed of twenty one men from the National Guard California State Militia Lieutenant Humphreys, twenty-one men, Columbian Guard under Lieut McElwee and a detachment of twenty-one, Sumter Guard The vestry of the church have received numerous dispatches of condolence from the Eastern side, including one from Jessie B Fremont "Put violets for me on our dear friend who rests."

A County Committee to serve for two years, was then appointed consisting of G H Stewart, T R Harrison and John Carey at the request of said committee (who were present) the Convention directed that precinct committees be held in the several precincts of the county on Saturday, the last day of May 1864 for the purpose of electing delegates to the County Convention to be held at Lafayette on Wednesday the 8th day of June 1864 for the purpose of nominating County officers

It was then moved and carried that the Convention instruct the delegate to the State Convention to favor the nomination of Abraham Lincoln for the next President

On motion adjourned

HOW THE NEGRO TROOPS WON RESPECT — An officer under Gen Banks, who once despised negroes and deemed them fit only for slavery has written to a friend that his mind is entirely changed on that subject and tells how it happened After referring to their enrolment which he deemed wasteful and vain tells he continues

A month rolled by and the call came to move out to the attack of Port Hudson One morning (we were encamped by the Atchafalaya) we saw a column approaching which we at once recognized as the 1st La Native Guards and as they came swinging Heartily the chorus of "John Brown's body" arose showing an appreciation of their condition and exhibiting at the same time a soldierly pride such as you might look for in a veteran we all felt our confidence in the negro experiment increase Our own regiment cheered to the echo and manifested great interest exhorting them to be brave and not take any prisoners but to kill every reb they might find.

A few days passed and the heavy firing announced that the conflict for the great watery highway through rebeldom had commenced Soon the returning couriers began to come in "Was the 1st La in the fight" we asked "Yes" "Were the colored troops engaged" "Yes" How did they behave" we continued, almost breathless with fear of an unfavorable answer "They fought like devils Never were braver men I never believed in niggers before but now I am up abolitionist, and damn the man that don't" was the reply, as he rushed on with his dispatches

In a day or two, it became evident that the whole spirit of the army had changed The question had been decided "Negroes would fight" and now fun reigned who, before had turned up their noses at the mere mention of negro soldiers were anxiously inquiring, "Is there not a vacancy in your regiment" I should like to command such men as fought at Port Hudson Don't care if they are as black as the ace of spades

It was really astonishing to see how any & every prejudice was knocked into pi by one stubborn fact We had no more difficulty but instead of abuse from all quarters we heard only praise of the gallant 1st La Native Guards and of the superior fighting qualities of the Africa We were soon ordered to the front with our new un lisciplined recruits to take part in the reduction of the rebel stronghold, and for more than a month they worked in the ditches with a patience and energy which, even the Irish much as they hate a darkey, heartily commended Nor were examples of bravery wanting In advancing our ditches, it was often requisite for some to sal mit themselves to extreme exposure and when this was the case, volunteers were always ready.

GEN GARTTON ON THE PEACE DEMOCRATS — The General after telling his experience out of the Union says

But when I got back again where do you reckon I found a great many of my Union friends? Sitting right down holding on to the negro When I came back I said "Look here, my friends, I have made my fight about this thing, I have been shot at more times than I have got negroes, and I do not think it will pay, because they may get me the next time, and I do not think a white man's life ought to be put up against the property he had in the negro" I found my friends sitting right down where I left them That is the way with a great many of my Democratic friends in the North to day They don't want to change from their old platform, although events have changed

I have had enough of that question, and I have let loose my negroes—that is, they confiscated them, all except one I got that one through—and Lincoln, they said, pardoned me all except so far as that negro went, and that he set free So between him and Jeff Davis they have pretty nearly broken me up on the negro question Davis confiscated my negroes, and would confiscate my neck if he could get it I noticed when I came to the North as a subjugated individual who has returned to the Government, I did not hear any of those peace men say anything about my sufferings from secession when I came here quitting the rebel service regarding it as foul and loathsome and corrupt

THE CONTRABAND SOLDIERS —It is amusing, writes a correspondent from Point Isabel, Texas, to see how completely nonplussed some of our privates are in the possession of their money Some never had a dime in their lives to call their own, and could not distinguish between a one, two, or five dollar greenback One fellow paid ten dollars for a watch, and his Lieutenant noticing it, inquired the time of day

"Lor, Cap'n," replied the darkey (they call every officer Cap'n) I dunno, d'ye 'spose I can tell?"

"Why, what did you waste your money for a watch then?" asked the Lieutenant, whereupon the darkey broke into a loud laugh, as he said, "Why, Cap'n, I bought it so dey couldn't keep dis chile on guard over two hours"

SHORT CROPS —The Colusa Sun, of Saturday March 5th, speaking of the dry weather and its effects upon the stock, says

It will be impossible we believe to save one fourth of the stock in this county There is nowhere to take them—every other place is just as bad We will have to depend upon Oregon for our supplies this year

LIFE INSURANCE —Be sure that you have a policy of insurance on your life It is the cheapest and surest way of laying up a fund for your family, as $5 000 insured is as good as $50,000 deposited in bank for the benefit of those who may be left behind you—for the support of those who are dependent upon you—whom you love and for whom your daily exertions are made

CHICAGO March 16 —There is considerable excitement in Kentucky caused by the action of the Federal authorities in enrolling slaves in that State preparatory to the draft Gov Bramlette has issued an address which is in substance as follows

LOUISVILLE March 16 —Kellogg's Citizens In view of the disturbance of the popular mind produced by the enrollment of slaves for the army in Kentucky, it seemed most prudent to make the following suggestions for the benefit and guidance of the loyal men of Kentucky You indignantly should not allow yourself to commit acts of violence or unlawful resistance Standing, as we have stood and ever will stand, for the Constitution Union and the enforcement of the laws we must meet and correct unjust and unconstitutional legislation only by a legitimate appeal to the Constitutional tribunal of the Government at the ballot box Thus the only true mode of maintaining the Constitution Union and respect of the laws Merely enrolling the names of slaves does not affect any right of a citizen We should abide by and maintain the laws, and pursue the modes provided by law and the remedy it affords If any violence occurs to persons or property of citizens be committed by any officers or soldiers against the known laws of the land make your complaint in the mode prescribed by law and if any commanding officer refuses or neglects to use his utmost endeavors to arrest an officer or soldier under his command and hand them over to the civil magistrate for trial when officially advised of these facts the Executive of this State will prefer charges and demand a court martial, and under the Constitution and in accordance with law, assert and urge your rights It is our duty to obey law until declared by judicial decision to be unconstitutional Citizens whose property may be taken under law for public use, will be entitled, under the imperative mandate of the Constitution to just compensation for property so taken for public use Although the present Congress may not do us justice, yet it is safe to rely upon the justice of the American people and an appeal to them will not be unheeded or unanswered

WASHINGTON, March 16 —House resumed the consideration on the gold bill An amendment was adopted that the obligation to create a sinking fund by the act of February 24th 1863, shall not be impaired thereby Hughy of California opposed the government going into market with gold in hands, and huckstering to buy its own paper at less than its face After some debate the bill, with the Senate amendment, passed by 33 majority. The remonstrance of France to Prussia, against the advance of Prussian troops into Jutland is said to be far less forcible than England's but the tone of the document is considered indicative Napoleon clearly means what he says.

He declares the new military law unconstitutional, and says the conscription of citizens will not fill the army but weaken home protection by depriving the State of her active militia and making her civil rights subordinate to military power He denies the right of Congress to delegate the power to suspend the writ of habeas corpus to the President, and characterizes it as a plain violation of the Constitution The Legislature is earnestly recommended to take prompt action on the Stamp Act, with their indignant condemnation He says we should keep before the Northern people the idea that we are ready to negotiate for peace whenever they are willing to give up our rights to self government and the sovereignty of the States After each battle our Government should make distinct offers for peace on these terms, and should the course of the States be changed let armed forces be withdrawn and the ballot box decide If this be refused, even a dozen times, we should renew it

ST PATRICK'S DAY —THE EXCURSION —The contemplated excursion to Vancouver by the Hibernian Benevolent Society of Portland, came off yesterday, — St Patrick's day. The steamer John H Couch, which had been chartered for the occasion, was in trim at 8 o'clock, and after the Society had formed in procession, at their rooms, and headed by the Mechanics Brass Band, marched through several of the principal streets, they proceeded to Vaughn's wharf and embarked The steamer was comfortably loaded, and starting up the river some distance, turned, coming down abreast of the city, with flags floating and music playing, presenting an appearance so fine that many people on shore expressed regrets they could not mingle with the happy crowd on board Arriving at Vancouver, at 11 o'clock A M, they were received and welcomed by the Society of that place, and soon marched to the Church, where mass was performed by Rev Father Ferrera, and a sermon preached by Rev Father Mans At the conclusion of the exercises at the Church the procession was again formed, and after a parade of some duration they were marshaled to Metropolis Hall, where a dance of no small pretensions was served, and of which all partook in a most happy manner, it would be hard to tell which sparkled the most—the wit or the champagne Speeches were made by S J McCormick, J W Sutton, Wm Lair Hill, and others, and toasts were abundant After dinner the company adjourned up stairs and danced until 5 P M, when those for this city took a reluctant departure from the finely decorated Hall where music and dancing was so much enjoyed Arriving home again at about 7 o'clock the procession marched up the principal streets to the rooms of the Society, and the exercises of the day on their behalf were closed The weather throughout the entire day, was the finest, and loveliest, ever produced

TRIAL OF MRS EDWARDS —The grand jury impannelled in the U S Court, at Vancouver, have found a bill of indictment for murder in the degree, against Mrs Edwards who is charged with killing her husband at Her trial will commence and is very apt to detail pretty clearly and circumstantially the murder anywhere The case rests on circumstantial evidence U S Attorney, will represent the Lawrence, and Jay D Potter will appear for the defendant It is thought that Perish, the paramour of Mrs Edwards, will not be indicted, for want of sufficient evidence

MIXED —The City Attorney was authorized at the last session of the Council to "notify A C Gibbs that block No 172 on which he is making improvements, is set apart for the North Market Square, and all improvements made thereon would be removed by the city," Upon examination yesterday, it proved that the Council was not "posted" as to block The improvements alluded to are on block 211, which had also been donated to public use, two blocks from North Market Square

POST OFFICE COMPLAINTS —We receive complaints from Milwaukie Oregon City and Needy, that subscribers to the WEEKLY OREGONIAN do not receive their papers We are assured by Postmaster Davis that the packages are all properly distributed here, and we are at a loss to know the causes of the detention The subject needs investigation. We would request the Postmaster at Lafayette to be particular in noticing the difference on our packages, addressed to Fort Yamhill and North Yamhill—the similarity sometimes occasions confusion

DEPARTURE OF THE INDUSTRY —The bark Industry, Capt Corno, takes her departure for San Francisco this morning, in tow of the John H Couch to Astoria Capt Corno has furnished us with a list of the contents of his cargo, from which we observe Portland down for several articles of export. ST. PATRICK'S DAY—THE EXCURSION.—The contemplated excursion to Vancouver by the Hibernian Benevolent Society of Portland, came off yesterday,—St. Patrick's day. The steamer John H. Couch, which had been chartered for the occasion, was in trim at 8 o'clock, and after the Society had formed in procession, at their rooms, and headed by the Mechanics' Brass Band, marched through several of the principal streets, they proceeded to Vaughn's wharf, and embarked. The steamer was comfortably loaded, and starting up the river some distance, turned, coming down abreast of the city, with flags floating and music playing, presenting an appearance so fine that many people on shore expressed regrets they could not mingle with the happy crowd on board. Arriving at Vancouver, at 11 o'clock A. M., they were received and welcomed by the Society of that place, and soon marched to the Church, where mass was performed by Rev. Father Feireiro, and a sermon preached by Rev. Father Mans. At the conclusion of the exercises at the Church the procession was again formed, and after a parade of some duration they were marshaled to Metropolis Hall, where a dinner of no small pretensions was served, and of which all partook in a most happy manner; it would be hard to tell which sparkled the most—the wit or the champagne. Speeches were made by S. J. McCormick, J. W. Sutton, Wm. Lair Hill, and others, and toasts were abundant. After dinner the company adjourned up stairs and danced until 5 P. M., when those for this city took a reluctant departure from the finely decorated Hall, where music and dancing was so much enjoyed. Arriving home again about 7 o'clock the procession marched up the principal streets to the rooms of the Society, and the exercises of the day on their part were closed. The weather throughout the entire day, was the finest, and loveliest, ever produced.

ANOTHER MILL.—We read an order yesterday, at the office of the Oregon Iron Works, for another quartz mill. The mill in question is to be 8 stamps, each stamp to weigh 300 pounds, with a steam engine, boiler, and all the appliances. The location for which it is intended is on the Idaho lode, South Boise. Accompanying the order were some specimens of the rock, said to yield from 10 cents to $10 to the pound. We know the South Boise country to be rich, and there are some sixty distinct lodes discovered there, all showing rich tracings of gold and silver. Such machines as the one ordered will soon produce a astonishing yield of treasure from there.

TRIAL OF MRS. EDWARDS.—The grand jury impannelled in the U. S. District Court, at Vancouver, have found a true bill of indictment for murder in the first degree, against Mrs. Edwards, who was charged with killing her husband at Pacific County, W. T. Her trial will commence in a few days, and is very likely to develop one of the most deliberate and fiendish murders ever committed anywhere. The case rests entirely upon circumstantial evidence. H. G. Strové, District Attorney, will represent the people, and A. J. Lawrence, and Jay D. Potter will appear for the defendant. It is thought generally, that Frisch, the paramour of Mrs. Edwards, will not be arrested, for want of sufficient evidence.

LAND.—The City Attorney was authorized at the last session of the Council to "notify J. C. Gibbs that block No. 172, on which he is making improvements, is set apart for the New Market Square, and all improvements made thereon would be removed by the city," &c. Upon examination yesterday, it proved that the Council was not "posted" as to the facts. The improvements alluded to are on block 211, which had also been donated to public use, two blocks from North Market Square.

POST OFFICE COMPLAINTS.—We receive complaints from Milwaukie, Oregon City and Canby, that subscribers to the WEEKLY OREGONIAN do not receive their papers. We are assured by Postmaster Davis that the packages are all properly distributed here, and we are at a loss to know the causes of the detention. The subject needs investigation. We would request the Postmaster at Lafayette to be particular in noticing the difference on letters addressed to Fort Yamhill and Mount Yamhill—the similarity sometimes occasions confusion.

DEPARTURE OF THE INDUSTRY.—The bark Industry, Capt. Corno, takes her departure from San Francisco this morning, in tow of the Jno. H. Couch, to Astoria. Capt. Corno has favored us with a list of the contents of his cargo, from which we observe Portland down on several articles of export. For instance, 1,100,000 feet of lumber are taken, 1,700 sacks of flour, 133 sks of potatoes, 16 bbls. of pitch, 2 bbls. of turpentine, and several samples of wine and cider, manufactured in this vicinity.

AN AQUARIUM.—Buchtel & Cardwell have recently made some important additions to their cabinet of collections in Natural History. They have four beautiful gold fish and design putting up a large sized Aquarium in a few days, with all the improvements. They have also received an addition to their stock of birds, among them one fine specimen of the Brown Heron.

JUDGES OF ELECTION.—The Common Council have appointed the following Judges for the ensuing city election: First Ward, T. G. Thomson, J. Failing; Second Ward, J. M. Cook, Wm. H. Bennett, T. White; Third Ward, Wm. M. King, W. F. Wilcox, E. J. Northrup.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY BALL.—We acknowledge the receipt of a "Complimentary," to attend the second anniversary Ball of the Hebrew Benevolent Society, to be given on Monday evening next, at the Gymnasium Hall. This will no doubt be a recherche affair.

EXCELLENT CIDER.—Squire Watson of Linn Chapel, occasionally places the printers of the OREGONIAN office under obligations for the samples of his excellent cider. He yesterday again filled up our cups, and all hands drank a long life to the generous donor.

THE IVANOWNA.—The work of discharging the cargo of the bark Ivanoiona was nearly finished last evening. She will take a cargo of "piles" on her return to San Francisco.

THEATRICAL.—We have seen larger audiences at Theatres, but we never saw a fairer proportion of ladies at one, than attended Williamette Theatre last evening. To say that the performing was good, would convey but a weak impression of it. The "Serious Family" always did beat any family we ever saw, and "The Fool in the Family" was not far short of being the best thing ever produced on those boards, to raise a person's risibilities. The songs sung by Mrs. Leslie were both good. We award her the praise of being an excellent vocalist.

THE STEAMERS COMING.—News has been received that the steamer Brother Jonathan sailed from San Francisco yesterday, via Victoria, for Portland. The Sierra Nevada will leave there on Monday for Portland, direct.

APPLES.—About 200 boxes of the finest varieties of fruit, were landed in this city yesterday, from the vicinity of Stile's landing on the Columbia. They were disposed of in town.

THE City Surveyor was out yesterday locating the lines for the fencing of the Plaza, and the sidewalk around the same.

WE HAVE ALWAYS ADVOCATED the Sewing Machine as a most useful and necessary instrument for the household in relieving women from their wearysome sewing, but we are even more enthusiastic in its in its praise on learning that the elegant embroidering and braiding which has become so fascinating and popular, is also the effect of the Sewing Machine, or rather of one of the Sewing Machines—the Grover & Baker, which has become the favorite with all our lady friends.

Harmony Lodge No. 12, F. & A. M.—Meets on 2d and 4th Mondays of each month, at 7 o'clock, P. M. Brethren in good standing are invited to attend.

DETTER'S HAIR RESTORATIVE FOR BALD HEADS.

IT IS NOT MY INTENTION TO HUMBUG THE PUBlic. This Restorative has built up a world-wide reputation upon its own merits, as considered by those who have used it, to be the best article ever invented for the Hair. Read the following certificate:

LEBANON, Sept. 3d, 1863.

This is to certify that I have used DETTER'S HAIR RESTORATIVE, and I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and effectual preparation for the restoration of the Hair. I was nearly bald when I commenced the use of it, and after using two bottles, I find it has produced a fine, healthy growth of hair, and that, too, in less than two months. I can heartily recommend it for its great virtues and efficiency. S. D. RAMSDELL.

Witness: F. H. SIMMONS.

Persons who stand in need of a Hair Restorative will do well to give it a fair trial. For sale by

An Englishman's Revenge

A late Parisian paper tells the story of a wealthy Englishman who may even hardly be seen at the grand opera and the Italian opera and who enjoys a great reputation not only as being a great connoisseur of music but further, as being a great amateur of painting How the latter reputation was acquired you will presently see He was here one of those Bedouin Englishmen who live alternately in all the European capitals except when they are on an occasional jaunt to Egypt or to China, or to India or to the Holy Land He never travels alone, his wife was with him, his bona fide wife for notwithstanding his roving life (so apt to shorten one's morals) he had all the English respect for the sex and a true Englishman's love for his wife She was a beautiful woman, one of those keepsake beauties, that used to make one's dream forever Her social success was very great in all cities they visited In Rome after some years' marriage they became acquainted with a German artist, of a good deal of reputation who to his art joined the learning of Benedictine, and knew the piety of Romulus as well as Winkleman or Visconti The German volunteered to be their cicerone in the Eternal City, they gladly accepted his offer Many were the hours they passed with him in the museum of the capital, in the Vatican, in St Peter's, and in the delightful excursions they made in the environs of Rome The artist became in love with the English lady, she appreciated his affection The husband was a long while seeing the stain upon his honor several years passed away before he perceived it for he was very much pleased with the artist, and they had long been on the most intimate footing Although stung to the quick by such base faithlessness and such gross violation of the laws of hospitality and friendship he said nothing he was, nevertheless determined upon a complete revenge and he appealed to cooler reflections to furnish forth a suitable punishment. The passions are bad counselors He left Italy and returned with his wife to England saying nothing but au revoir to the artist When he reached England, he told his wife of the painful discovery he had made, and he gave her back into her father's hands He then returned to the Continent alone, and visited Germany, Russia and France, where he purchased a great many paintings, he then went to Italy, meanwhile continuing to purchase paintings and at last —two years had now passed away since their last meeting—he called on the German painter, who still lived in Rome, and demanded satisfaction from him His challenge was accepted and the Englishman according to the European custom—being the offended party, selected the weapons He chose pistols During the past two years he had practiced daily for several hours, and his known address with the pistol had became an unerring certainty of shot He sent the shot wherever he wished it to go The parties went to the ground they were placed 30 paces apart with the privilege of advancing 10 steps before firing The signal was then given One! two! three, fire! The word fire was scarcely out of the second's mouth, when the Englishman fired without moving his antagonist's pistol fell from his hand, and was discharged by the fall, the ball burying itself in the ground The Englishman's ball had shattered the artist's arm, and amputation was necessary his career of artist was ended—and forever A few days after the amputation the Englishman called on him, and without noticing the angry reception he met, said to the suffering artist—"If you think my vengeance is satisfied with your shattered hand and the wreck of your artist's career, you strangely underrate the agony of a dishonored husband Though I have condemned you to a life of vain regrets, to a never ending series of impotent sighs, to a total oblivion by all amateurs and historians of art— " 'Oh no, sir,' interrupted the artist his face beaming with a ray of hope, 'the last you cannot do My Madonna, at St Petersburg, my Duthea, at Berlin my Flight into Egypt at Paris, my —" The Englishman interrupted him in turn— 'Spare me,' said he 'the names of your works, but look over this catalogue and see if I have not the exact list of them all" "Yes, they are all there —even the paintings I finished the day before the duel " So I was persuaded All the paintings on this catalogue are my property, I'd with them what I please, I please to burn them aye, to burn every one of them, that your name shall be effaced from the glorious roll of artists In two hours from this time your talent, your conceptions, your skill will be as completely effaced from the world as the lines which the urchin traces in the sand are effaced by the rising tide, fire is as destructive as water" In vain the poor artist begged for mercy, the wronged husband was insensible to his supplications and in two hours the servant brought to the artist's room a large earthen vessel commonly used to contain oil filled with ashes—it was all that remained of his paintings

JAMES B CLAY AND HIS SLAVE —The late James B Clay, like most wealthy slaveowners was very fond of boasting of the attachment and devotion of his bondmen to himself Not only were his slaves well fed and well housed, but they were far happier than free people and knew and appreciated the inestimable advantages of their position They did not want freedom and wouldn't take it on any terms All they asked was to live on the old plantation and to end their days under the easy yoke of Massa' Clay

Once upon a time—some two or three years ago—Clay had a Quaker friend from the North visiting him, and to whom he expressed his usual confidence in the attachment of his slaves The Quaker was incredulous and so Clay vauntingly determined to put the matter to the test

An old house slave—one who enjoyed his confidence who had been always well treated and who seemed to entertain a real affection for his master—was called and entered the room

"Tom," said Clay, "here is a gentleman from the North who says you and the other boys are miserable here and want to be free You may go home with him if you like" Tom grew puzzled and looked first at his master, then at the Yankee, and scratched his head doubtingly

"You are free Tom, and you can leave me if you want to" again said the master.

The negro trembled with emotion He was all excitement, he cried "Are you in earnest massa? Can I go North and be free?

"Yes, you want I have told you I have given you your freedom"

"Then I will go, I will go, bless the Lord" And the old fellow was beside himself with joy and gratitude at his unexpected liberation

It was not however what the slaveholder had expected He became very angry, declared the poor credulous slave away and informed his Northern friend aware that his servants were better than his company Of course Tom was never freed but it is probable that from that time forth he was less attached to the soil and less unkind to the overseers of his negroes for their share in the affair—Boston Journal

THE PRESIDENT'S LAST —A New England gentleman called at the White House to propose a new plan for capturing Richmond

"I know, Mr President" said he "that the Confederate men in the rebel capital with the prisoners and the contrabands there are quite sufficient for the garrison—so all that you have to do is to let Gen Meade make a diversion against Lee's army and then let Gen Butler sweep up the James river to co-operate with the Unionists"

"I have great confidence in Gen Butler" replied Mr Lincoln but I am not so sure about Richmond Your plan reminds me of a story of a lot of Methodist ministers who were the trustees of a Western college It so happened that this college was connected with a neighboring town by a bridge, and that the bridge was subject to be carried away by freshets A flood they held a special session to receive the plans of a noted bridge builder, a gifted mechanic, but rather a poor financier

"Can you build this bridge," asked a reverend gentleman

Build it" jauntily replied the mechanic, "I could build a bridge to hell

This settled the matter, and after the bridge builder retired, the minister who had recommended him thought proper to apologize

"I feel confident" said he "that our ancient friend could build a safe bridge to Hades, although I am not so sure of the abutment on the other side"

"And so with your plan," concluded the President "I have great confidence in General Butler, but doubt the strength of the Unionists in Richmond —Correspondent of the Boston Journal
